He never stated it was the source?

Also this thread is useless, all the ripoff triggers are already posted in a thread and easily available if you search around for more than 3 seconds.

You can't update anything period because your knowledge is lower than tyetard. How's the LoL software coming along? Still looking for a source base to change the version number and rename the source, or did you give up?

I would prefer you stop flaming my name.
Shit is getting old. Please stop.

Thank you.
